The pastors and elders of College Park take the covenant of marriage very seriously. We believe that every marriage ceremony is performed not just in the context of a church or before the invited guests, but before God himself. As the theological gatekeepers and spiritual overseers of the body here at College Park Church (CPC), we desire every couple married at CPC to be married by a pastor who has a high view of God and a high regard for the institution of marriage. We see your role as a guest pastor, officiating a wedding at CPC, as an extension of our ministry. To help us respond to this request, please complete the following information.
